The City Of History By Lewis Mumford 891 Words 4 Pages In "The City in History", Lewis Mumford first asks the question what is a city and how did it come to be? Mumford's standpoint is that cities have taken a long time to fully understand, and it will again take longer to see the unrealized potential of them.

~~City in History by Lewis Mumford — Paperback — from The ...~~

In the first four chapters of his seminal book "The City in History", Lewis Mumford demonstrates and outlines various vital issues that intertwine to explain the beginnings of the city and its various institutions, behaviors and social norms that exist within. The three key issues that are the most striking are the reason for the existence of cities aside from animal needs, the dominance of women in Neolithic culture and ...
