Thwart my wistful way did a damsel saunter, Fair, the while unformed to be all-eclipsing; "Maiden meet," held I, "hll arise my forefelt Wonder of women." Long a visioned hermitage deep desiring, Tenements uncouth I was fain to house in; "Let such lodging be for a breath-while," thought I, "Soon a more seemly.

In June of 1929, Federico Garcia Lorca left his native Spain on a journey that would become a vision-quest through New York City, the Vermont countryside, and Cuba. While he failed miserably at learning English during his brief sojourn at Columbia University, he nonetheless created a powerful new poetic idiom to voice his perceptions of social injustice and apocalyptic retribution. Guided by the duende, liminal principle of creativity and death, Lorca represents New York as dystopia cum Armageddon, ultimately redeemed by the Blacks of Harlem and the telluric forces unleashed to retake the decadent, soulless civilization of North America.

The Light is a fiction novel that describes the life of a hypermodern society in which the speed of exponential development of technology has modified behavioral patterns, life expectancy, memory and the imagination of the human being. The plot of The Light moves in the midst of individual post-truth of the protagonist, President Salvador Leal, and the antagonist, President Jackie Peres, concerning their vision of the planet, the human species and the conservation of freedom in the face of new technology. The characters are from two distinct demographic groups: those who have improved their capacities and the ones who have kept themselves natural. In the middle of their diverse lights and shadows, the possibility remains to preserve the freedom of decision to access or withdraw from new technologies to enjoy natural beauty, shared joy, empathy and solidarity. Hypermodern life is the darkness of uncertainty that can only be survived with the light of candor.

The Top Secrets Unveiled Within! The Walking Man is a bilingual French/English book, a collection of my poems and my own composition of spiritual songs. Certainly, it's about poetry in general, with spiritual, uplifting and inspirational, love and other themes, that reflect man's life as he walks in this world seeking the things he need, beautifully written in different poetic forms and some poems are well-expressed in my very own invention - the "mixed rhyme," such examples of this poetic form are the "Text Me A Poem" and "The Secret Of A Mango Tree." There are haiku and senryu poems, as well. And also, I included some of my favorite bible verses; and most certainly, my own experiences in life are also reflected in this book.

Vols. 227-230, no. 2 include: Stuff and nonsense, v. 5-6, no. 8, Jan. 1929-Aug. 1930.

First, artisanal-quality book of poetry and art by Joseph Jason Santiago LaCour.60 pages. This book is beautiful. Before you even get to the words, you can feel the love that's gone into it's creation. The author meticulously chose every ingredient. Laser-printed on 60 lb off-white paper that's easy on the eyes. Produced locally in Santa Cruz, CA with a genuine desire to contribute to our shared growth. The work reflects years of writing, reciting, drawing using art as a sanctuary from the hardships of family/work life. Positive and self-empowering.
